

DIVISION FOR LEARNING DISABILITIES

Outstanding Educator of the Year Award

The Division for Learning Disabilities’ Outstanding Educator-of-the-Year Awards recognize outstanding professionals who serve students with specific learning disabilities. Nominees may be special educators, general educators, administrators, or other educators who have spent at least five years serving students with learning disabilities at any grade level.

The award consists of

- A $500 stipend,
- Up to $500 in travel expenses for presentation of the award at the DLD business meeting, held during CEC’s annual convention, and
- A commemorative plaque.

Timeline: Applications are due October 15 annually.

Nominee

Nominator

Name:

Address:

Phone:

e-mail:

Nominator’s DLD (CEC) member number:

Nomination letter and recommendations: In addition to the information requested above, the nominators should include a letter of support describing why the nominee makes an excellent candidate for this award. In addition, please list two individuals who support this nomination. These references do not need to submit a letter, but they may be contacted as part of the selection process.

Visit TeachingLD.org for additional information about this and other initiatives of the Division for Learning Disabilities!

Reference #1

Reference #2

Name:

Relationship to the nominee:

e-mail:

Email full applications to the DLD Professional Development Committee Chair: Dr. Elizabeth M. Hughes at emh71@psu.edu. Email response will be sent upon receipt.